The University of São Tomé and Príncipe (USTP) is a public higher education institution that arose from the need to create a structure capable of bringing together the different institutions and training centers in order to provide functional and institutional uniformity to higher education in São Tomé and Príncipe.

The USTP was created by Decree-Law no. 9/2014 by decision of the Government of São Tomé and Príncipe and is an emanation of the Basic Law of the Education System which institutionalizes Polytechnic and University Higher Education in the structure of the National Education - System.

This process is, therefore, the result of the desire to bring together, in the same institution, various areas of knowledge, thus creating better conditions to keep up with contemporary developments in science, technology, the arts, and humanities.

Its teaching, research, and extension activities are national in scope; it enjoys scientific, pedagogical, and administrative autonomy.

USTP's aim is to provide higher education, research, and extension that enables it to train citizens with the capacity for entrepreneurial action and independent thinking necessary for the country's sustainable development. To achieve this goal, USTP currently has three organic teaching units (Faculties) and one organic research and extension unit (Center).

ASSOCIAÇÃO BAOBÁ

Throughout our volunteering in Sao Tomé and Príncipe in 2022, we created strong relationships with the community where we worked. We understood that the majority of young people found themselves in a different situation from what we were used to. Furthermore, we realized that there was no motivation from the population to develop and create businesses that could contribute to the growth of the country, using its own resources.

This is when the idea to create BAOBÁ was born, a non-profit organization, with the goal to be the bridge between the population and the opportunities that the country offers.

We want to fight the early school dropout, the lack of vision and entrepreneurship, and finally, the social and environmental problems in the country.

We believe in the population of São Tomé, and in their capacity to contribute to the development of the country.

BAOBÁ is a tree that symbolizes the strength and resistance of the African people. It's considered a sacred tree.
